FRIDAY NIGHT FACTS

OFFICE OF FAITH-BASED AND COMMUNITY INITIATIVES

MITCHELL E. DANIELS, JR., GOVERNOR
PAULA PARKER-SAWYERS, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Dear Readers,

For the past several months, OFBCI has been partnering with other state and federal agencies to develop SHARE Network Indiana. SHARE, an acronym for Showing How Awareness of Resources Empowers has been created to help Hoosiers locate resources to assist in finding a job, keeping a job, or obtaining a better job.

SHARE Network Indiana has two key components. The first, a free, online resource directory of services is available at www.SHAREnetwork.in.gov and may be accessed through any internet computer. The directory includes traditional government services, and programs offered by congregations, community organizations and other local groups. There is no charge to use or to be listed in the directory.

We realize that not everyone has access to the internet, and many people would like some personal assistance. To address these needs, SHARE Network Access Points are being placed in local faith and community organizations across the state. SNAPs offer trained volunteers and computer access to assist Hoosiers in using SHARE Network Indiana in a convenient setting.

I want to personally invite you to register your organization with the SHARE Network Resource Directory. If you offer job training, tutoring, basic needs assistance, or other services that will support an individual who is employed or looking for employment, I encourage you to register. Even if these services are only offered once or twice a week, there are people who need to know that they are available.

Thank you for all that you are doing!

Sincerely,

Paula Parker-Sawyers
On behalf of SHARE Network Indiana
